Audubon, N. J.

THANKING my friends and customers for their orders and appreciative reports, I again list many worth-while Dahlias and some of special merit. These are priced in plant form, as most of my customers order plants entirely; but I will gladly quote on roots or clumps on request. I ship plants successfully anywhere in the United States.

Early orders are advisable.

On orders received before January 15th, you may deduct 5% for cash in full with order.

Orders over $3.00 shipped prepaid and, if you add 25c for special handling, I guarantee arrival in good condition, and will cheerfully replace any proving otherwise on prompt return of goods, or return money if out of stock.

Please advise as soon as possible if goods appear faulty in any respect. I do not offer all the new Dahlias, listing only those I like myself that will probably do well for you.

HELEN J. BURROUGHS (I. D.)—My latest introduction. A large, slivery pink out of Jersey's Beauty seed and has its healthy type of foliage but is much earlier and very free flowering. A most valuable commercial variety, as it is a fine cut flower and very beautiful under artificial light. This Dahlia, although new, has won many first prizes. At Audubon, N. J., show it won first on six blooms over excellent Jane Cowl, which is one of the very best Dahlias. (The Jane Cowl was shown with four-foot stems and was selected flower over 1000 blooms). At Merchantville, N. J., show it won first on twelve blooms and again had very fine Jane Cowl against it. Those who are familiar with Jane Cowl know it takes a good Dahlia to win over it		Plants	$3.00
		Roots	$7.50
